

Meeting the Moment: Climate Opportunity & Resilience Fund

ABOUT JUSTICE CLIMATE FUND

Justice Climate Fund (JCF) is a national nonprofit mobilizing capital and resources to strengthen under-resourced communities across America. We drive transformative investments in clean energy and climate solutions that deliver measurable returns, such as lower energy bills, good-paying jobs, cleaner air and water, healthier communities, and long-term economic and environmental resilience.

We partner with a national network of more than 400 community lenders and state and local stakeholders, advancing a pipeline of $1 billion in projects in communities that need them most. Our approach is both national in scope and deeply rooted in community, reaching from rural areas to urban cores across the Midwest, the Southeast, and beyond.

OUR MISSION & VISION

Our mission is to catalyze capital and resources that accelerate clean energy solutions, healthier environments, and economic and environmental resilience in under-resourced communities. We leverage the power of capital and partnerships to build equitable funding models that work for all Americans—because every community deserves access to clean energy, healthier neighborhoods, and the benefits of a more resilient economy.

JCF's VALUE PROPOSITION

Equity and Justice

We invest in communities that have historically been left behind—with measurable results, including lower energy costs, reduced pollution and climate risks, and greater economic and environmental resilience.

Power of Partnerships

JCF has a trusted national network of more than 400 partners, including community lenders, developers, and state and local stakeholders.

Scalable Toolkit

Our field-building approach includes technical assistance and capacity-building toolkits designed to strengthen the climate finance ecosystem.

Powering Climate Solutions: Invest. Empower. Amplify.

CLIMATE OPPORTUNITY & RESILIENCE FUND

JCF is partnering with investors, philanthropists, and mission-driven funders to seed the Climate Opportunity & Resilience Fund, with a $150 million target. The fund is designed to catalyze $1 billion in clean energy projects across our national pipeline.

JCF's scalable framework taps into a broad network of community lenders and partners. By combining local expertise with flexible, blended capital, we de-risk investments and deliver projects more efficiently and at scale.

These investments do more than generate short-term returns—we measure success by the long-term transformative outcomes that promote generational, community-wide prosperity, improved public health, and reduced climate risk.

Evaluating impact throughout the process ensures our funders see measurable, near- and long-term returns on their investments.
